	Question: Comments on course effectiveness
	The use of contemporary academic work reviewing recent financial events helped bring the course content to life.
	Really appreciate the energy and comedy you brought to finance. The examples and board problems really helped with the homework and quizzes. I struggled sometimes to keep up as you moved through the board problems but I got better as the semester progressed.
	I wish there were more straightforward or easier to follow instructions for some of the board problems in the slides as many times it was covered in class too quickly and I couldn't keep up. I didn't really use the textbook that much and found it to be somewhat expensive. Is there an alternative?
	Hands-on approach and content delivered by Davidson.
	Liked the real world examples and new stories the professor tied to our in class material.
	The course is refreshing.
	Most finance courses are pretty straight forward on what is expected. I think the true value from a course is the professor. Professor Heath is amazing!!!
	Application of real life examples and current events made it a lot easier to correspond and apply concepts/teachings. Main concepts were focused upon throughout session with additional learnings on the side. Low overall point value for entirety of grade hurt a little bit.
	The book wasn't necessary.
	The way the class was set up was great. It allowed me to try problems and then the professor would do them. I could tell within minutes if I did something correctly. I wish my financial accounting class was structured like this.
	Great lecturer, great ability of narrowing down key information and utilizing excel sheet examples that are very useful and utilize the class information really well to help retain content.

	It's helpful to have both breakout problems and board problems. Repeating the same exercise helps the information stick in my brain.
	It was a very well developed and delivered course
	The board problems and breakout problems were very helpful. I do better when I get a chance to see how concepts can be applied in the real world.
	Course content, examples
	Each class built off each other and every section was clearly meant to teach us something new, from NPV, IRR, PI, WACC, and bonds. If you showed up to class you would learn a great deal each session.
	Davidson was very engaging. He made the topic relevant and put in terms everyone could understand.
	At times I felt like the quiz questions were harder than the practice questions done in class. If this were more in alignment, I would have felt better.
	Professor made the content relevant to real life.. Attempted to cater to all levels of professionals in the class
	The quizzes were tough, but made me learn and helped me internalize the material.
	The breakout and board problems were very helpful. I liked that he posted past quizzes and exams to learn from.
	Material was easily accessible and TA was helpful
	I learned a lot and the professor made the content more entertaining which helped me to retain the information. If it weren't for the professor this would have been a much more difficult course to follow.
	The course was well designed and I enjoyed it. What I think would have helped with the overall anxiety of the course would have been more regular graded check-ins on how we were doing with the concepts we were to be learning. It was a lot of pressure in that every quiz question was literally 1% of our final grade.
	Liked his learning in excel. The cases were good.
	I appreciated the time the professor went over in excel and the models he shared. I am not as comfortable with excel and so this made learning and applying the functions practical for homework as well as projects outside of class.
	Really well organized lectures and slides with plenty of information, made it nice to not have to read the textbook exclusively, but it was nice to have it for reference.
	Really great class! Comparing to undergrad finance classes that spend way too much time dwelling on the intricacies and variations of formulas (e.g. annuities), this course material strategically focus on the high-level material and made it very easy to understand. I think all materials - cases, textbook and especially the slides were very concise and informative.
	He manually went through the problems with us. Very helpful.
	Great examples to work through in class and great case studies to try to better understand the concepts. It was good to have a quiz every other week to keep up to speed. I wish there were more assignments to spread to load on points to help buffer the each question being worth 1% or more of a grade.
	Professor Davidson clearly is an expert, the class moved a little fast for me, but I don't have a great foundation in finance to start.
	Question: Instructor Comments
HEATH	Really enjoyed Professor Heath's enthusiasm in the subject and his knowledge of the material. Was always wanting/encouraging the class to engage in the teaching sessions. As well, was very supportive in students applying concepts outside of what was being taught (encouraged application) and was always available when needed.
HEATH	Professor Heath is amazing! It is hard to believe that he is so young in his teaching career. This guy is better than most seasoned finance professors. Best finance professor I have ever had.

HEATH	Davidson was very down to earth and I appreciated his humor and wit.
HEATH	Loved his sense of humor, kept the class interesting and fun.
HEATH	Davidson cares and does his best to answer all questions. He's personally given me a confidence boost after getting a low score on a quiz. He knows his stuff. The class was fun and interesting.
HEATH	Very funny and enthusiastic professor. A great lecturer overall, did excel calculations a little fast at times.
HEATH	None at this time.
HEATH	I really enjoyed Davidson, he was a fun professor who made a subject that I was worried about taking more enjoyable than I anticipated. Sometimes he goes over things too quickly in class, especially in-class problems and examples. I would recommend he go a little slower on those.
HEATH	I really think the in class examples were super effective and strait forward. The examples in class were very closely related to those in the quizzes so I could reference my previous work and learn more. I also think Professor Davidson knows his stuff and this was one of my favorite graduate level courses so far.
HEATH	The Professor was engaging and encouraging. Easily one of the best Professors I have had in this program to date.
HEATH	Fantastic experience. He makes Finance fun and not boring. That is an unbelievable feat.
HEATH	I am not a finance guy, but Davidson taught in a way that captured my attention and truly wanted me to learn more. His class was great and he was hilarious, the comedy helped alleviate some of the stress of the class.
HEATH	Straight up badass. Hilarious instructor, highly effective in being concise in content delivery.
HEATH	Overall I liked the class. It would be helpful to see some examples of how these exercise and problems are integrated into real life situations. Otherwise good.
HEATH	He is very knowledgable and helps us understand all the topics discussed. Really enjoyed his curren issues discussions of what is happening in the world today. Loved the class.
HEATH	Dr. Heath is well prepared, enthusiastic, an interactive presenter, and most importantly, a Rush fan. I'd take a class from him again anytime.
HEATH	Friendly, Knowledgeable
HEATH	This finance class was one of my favorites of the MBA program. It was well structured and Davidson really kept the class engaged with the material. He was respectful to questions asked and did a great job explain different concepts. If additional help was needed, he was there to go through certain quiz questions that might have been missed. I would definitely recommend this class to anyone thinking of doing a PMBA.
HEATH	Davidson is a great professor and enjoyable. I love his personality and stories. Overall I think his teaching style is excellent, and he knows a great deal on the topic.
HEATH	the format of board problems and breakout problems really helped in learning the material.
HEATH	Although Finance is not my favorite subject. I loved his class. He is A GREAT PROF. He is an asset. Please do not lose him.
HEATH	Very engaging and interesting examples to explain material. Good amount of practicing in class to pace the lecture portions.
HEATH	I hate finance and if I had to take finance, I would gladly take it from Davidson Heath. He is very passionate.
HEATH	i suggest giving us feed back on what we should do personally if we are not in the financial area.
HEATH	The professor was respectful and engaging. These characteristics helped me feel comfortable with asking questions and giving input in the class discussions. I am not very confident in my knowledge of finance so this was very valuable to me.
HEATH	Really amazing professor - extremely smart and engaging in class lectures.

HEATH	I really enjoyed professor Heath! I especially enjoyed his humor, very important to keep students engaged and awake during evening classes. He always took time to answer questions and engage with students before and after class. He is a really great teacher and the PMBA program is lucky to have him!
HEATH	Professor Davidson is great! He was knowledgeable and made the sometimes boring content very entertaining and easier to follow. He shared real world examples which further helped me understand the course subjects.
HEATH	I enjoyed Dr. Heath. He made a concept that I have struggled with in the past enjoyable and engaging. He stories and scenarios helped me to grasp the things we were discussing in class.
HEATH	Davidson was enthusiastic about the material and really wanted to us to learn which was apparent in his teaching
HEATH	He was easy to talk to and I liked that he gave us mock quizzes and exams to study from. He was an engaging professor. He was funny and humorous which made class more enjoyable. I highly recommend having this professor for the this class in the future.
HEATH	Very opinionated and outspoken instructor, not in a bad way though. Very intelligent and helped the class participate in the discussions.
HEATH	Overall my favorite quantitative course offered. Professor Heath is an engaging instructor and makes the class fun and interesting.
